FOREWORD

We take pleasure in sending forth this little book to serve as a guide and help to all who are interested in the progress and development of the Evangelical Lutheran Church in this the greatest Lutheran center in the world.

This humble publication is to serve as a handy directory of Lutheran church activity, giving merely the essential facts pertaining to the building of the walls of Lutheran Zion in and about the world's Metropolis.

The need of such a directory has long been felt since the information concerning the work of the Church as contained in secular directories is generally too meager to be of practical value or misleading because of inaccuracies.

Its appearance has been rendered possible by the willingness of men to serve as compilers and the interest and liberality of a layman in providing the financial backing required.

O. C. MEES, Editor.

The compilation of the data contained in this booklet is the first effort of its kind on this territory. Partly because it is a virgin undertaking it has presented many obstacles. We appreciate the prompt co-operation of many of the pastors. By the same token we regret the failure of many to answer the questionnaires, even after two reminders.

Where full information is not found in the Directory it has not been furnished. Errors and omissions will likely be discovered and should be promptly reported to Rev. David G. Jaxheimer, 217 Eckford St., Brooklyn, N. Y. Suggestions for future compilation are freely encouraged.

We are indebted to the Statistician of the National Lutheran Council, Rev. G. L. Kieffer, for the church and pastoral list and other helpful information provided from the files of the N.L.C. Statistical Bureau.

W. R. SIEGART,

The Evangelical Lutheran Church in the Metropolitan District of the Largest City in the World

Rev. G. L. Kieffer, Statistician and Secretary of the New York Lutheran Ministers Association

Any survey dealing with New York City and its Environs, because of its complexity as well as its gigantic size, is difficult, to say the least. This is especially true of the first survey attempted of the Lutherans in the Metropolitan District. The difficulty has been increased because of the non-cooperation of many of the pastors, and it is to be regretted that estimates proportionately based upon actual reports received in a number of instances have to take place of actual reports in order to make up complete reports.

The first thing to understand in an article dealing with the Metropolitan District is the definition of the District itself. In this survey, the five boroughs of the Greater City of New York; Nassau and Suffolk Counties on Long Island, to the east; Westchester and Rockland Counties, New York, to the north; Fairfield and New Haven Counties in Connecticut, to the northeast; and nine counties—Bergen, Essex, Hudson, Middlesex, Monmouth, Morris, Passaic, Somerset, and Union, in New Jersey, to the west; have been surveyed for the Lutheran work now carried on there. The additional territory in the Regional Plan for New York and Environs, of part of Orange, Putnam and Dutchess Counties, New York, and parts of Sussex, Hunterdon, Mercer and Ocean Counties in New Jersey, have been left for a future survey. The radius in miles on Long Island is 90, in Connecticut and Adjacent New York, 50, and in New Jersey, 40. The present population of the Metropolitan District covered is about 10,000,000.

The Church At Work

The Lutheran Church in this Metropolitan District has 451 congregations with an estimated total baptized membership of 220,000, and total number of people reached of 500,000; 460 pastors, church officers, missionaries, pastors emeriti and retired; 415 Sunday schools with 85,000 pupils; 115 week day schools with 7,000 pupils; 18 parochial schools with 2,250 pupils; 489 young people's organizations with 35,000 members, divided as follows: 257 Young People's Societies or Luther Leagues with 16,000 members; 95 Walther Leagues with 5,000 members, 44 Camp Fire Girls, Girl Scouts, Boy Scouts, with 7,000 members and 93 other Young People's Societies with 7,000 members; 249 men's organizations with 15,000 members, divided as follows: 105 Brotherhoods with 6,000 members, and 144 other organizations with 9,000 members; 554 women's organizations with 38,000 members, divided as follows: 144 Missionary Societies with 7,000 members, 315 Ladies' Aids with 25,000 members, and 95 other Women's Organizations with 6,000 members; 48 other organizations with 1,700 members: 9 Athletic Organizations with 300 members, 31 Choirs with 1,000 members, 5 bands with 100 members, and 3 Beneficial Organizations with 300 members. In this Metropolitan District, there are 9 Educational institutions, 3 Colleges, 3 Academies, and 3 Bible Schools. The Inner Mission institutions and organizations are as follows: 9 Orphans' Homes and Day Nurseries; 5 Home Finding Societies; 8 Homes for the Aged; 4 Deaconess Homes and Hospitals; 16 Hospices, Inns, Seamen's and Immigrant Homes, 7 Inner Mission societies. The societies are as follows: 8 Brotherhoods and general men's organizations; 15 ladies' auxiliaries, leagues, societies and organizations; 11 general and district Luther Leagues, Walther Leagues, Young People's federations; 6 general educational societies; 1 miscellaneous organization; 5 pastors' or ministerial organizations; 2 general publicity organizations, including radio. No effort has been made to count the many conferences, circuits, districts, synods, etc., under whose supervision the Church's work is carried forward for the reason that in most instances their territory is not confined to the Metropolitan District alone. In the Pastoral Directory in this volume are to be found the officers of such organizations, whose residence is in the Metropolitan District.

Lutheran Synods Numerous

Of the General Lutheran Church Bodies, the United Lutheran Church has 198 congregations; the Missouri Synod, 140; the Augustana Synod, 51; the Norwegian Lutheran Church, 22; the Slovak Synod, 9; the Danish Church, 7; the Finnish National Church, 5; the Finnish Suomi Synod, 4; the Joint Ohio Synod, 4; the United Danish Church, 2; the Church of the Lutheran Brethren, 1; and the Independent Congregations number 8.

The languages used in the services total 16. Practically all the congregations conduct some of their work in English. The survey of the language of the services of worship is as follows: Number of congregations having English services, 365; English only 144; no English but 1 other language only, 52; no English but 2 other languages only, 4; German, 164; German only, 10; Swedish, 30; Swedish only, 14; Norwegian, 15; Norwegian only, 6; Danish, 3; Danish only, 7; Finnish, 4; Finnish only, 6; Slovak only, 13; Lithuanian, 1; Lithuanian only, 1; Estonian, 1; Estonian only, 1; Italian, 1; Italian only, 2; Lettish, 1; Lettish only, 1; Wendish only, 2; Hungarian only, 2; Spanish only, 1; Polish only, 1; Yiddish, 1.

Lutherans First

The Lutheran Church is the largest Protestant Church in point of number of congregations in the Bronx, Richmond, Brooklyn and Queens, the third largest in Manhattan, and the largest in the five boroughs of Greater New York. In the five boroughs it exceeds the Protestant Episcopal Church with about 20 congregations, and, the Baptists, Methodists, and Presbyterians each, by about 70 or more congregations. In point of members, it is second, if not first, in the five boroughs, being exceeded only by the Protestant Episcopal Church. The 1916

United States Census of Religious Bodies reported 153 congregations with a membership of 62,046 in the five boroughs. So the increase in congregations and membership that will be revealed by the 1926 United States Census will be an excess of 50 congregations and more than 50,000 members. The Congregational Property value in Manhattan is about $5,000,000, in the Bronx $1,200,000, in Richmond, $550,000, in Brooklyn $12,000,000, in Queens $2,000,000, making a total of $20,750,000 in the five boroughs; in Nassau County $650,000, in Suffolk County, $150,000, making a total for the five boroughs and Long Island, of $21,550,000. These statistics have an added interest when compared with the 1906 Religious Census for the entire State of Connecticut, 75 congregations with 19,713 members (1916—83 congregations with 21,873 members); New York, 453 congregations with 124,644 members (1916—502 congregations with 145,612 members); New Jersey, 120 congregations with 24,147 members (1916—151 congregations with 35,037 members), and in Manhattan and the Bronx, 50 congregations with 22,147 members; Brooklyn 54 congregations with 25,107 members; Queens 16 congregations with 2,888 members; Richmond 5 congregations with 1,143 members. The gain in 20 years in Manhattan and the Bronx being 18 congregations, in Brooklyn 17 congregations; in Queens 32 congregations, and in Richmond 10 congregations, a total of 77 for the five boroughs of Greater New York.

Other Cities Having Many Lutheran Churches

The only cities, with the exception of perhaps Philadelphia, in the United States having more than 100 Lutheran congregations are Chicago and the "Twin Cities" (Minneapolis and St. Paul). The "Twin Cities," within a radius of 30 miles have 285 Lutheran congregations, 144 in Minneapolis and St. Paul and 141 in the suburban districts. Chicago, including the suburban districts, has 247 congregations with 112,222 communicants and total congregational property valued at $12,614,741. Philadelphia reports 91 congregations and 133 ministers. We regret that we have not available the total suburban report. The next highest are: Milwaukee with 80 congregations, Detroit with 70 congregations, Baltimore with 58 congregations, Pittsburgh with 52 congregations, and Cleveland with 50 congregations. In all of these, however, the suburban commuting districts are not included as they are in New York, the "Twin Cities" and Chicago.

The Field of the Church

New York Metropolitan District, the greatest center of population in the world, with about one tenth of the entire population of Continental United States, naturally becomes a most fertile Home Mission field for the Church. When the character of the population is considered, it becomes the greatest Home Mission field in America for the Evangelical Lutheran Church. First of all, as a check against the latest United States Census of 1920, we give the following table for Metropolitan New York from the 1925 New York State Census. It is to be regretted that a similar check is not available for Metropolitan Connecticut and Metropolitan New Jersey.

Both are growing by leaps and bounds. Where but recently farms and large estates existed, to-day new cities are rapidly springing up. This is especially true in Metropolitan New Jersey where the proposed bridge across the Hudson and the almost completed Vehicular Tunnel have brought about undreamed-of and almost incomprehensible development and corresponding increase in population. The Counties comprising Metropolitan New Jersey, namely, Bergen, Essex, Hudson, Middlesex, Monmouth, Morris, Passaic, Somerset and Union, will eventually become a great city, with a population, before the close of the 20th Century, of from 10,000,000 to 15,000,000. The Metropolitan New York 1925 Census table:

County	Population	No. Citizens	No. Aliens
Manhattan (New York)	1,945,029	1,457,193	487,836
Bronx	872,168	726,982	145,186
Richmond	138,277	122,706	15,571

Total Metropolitan New York	6,706,481	5,495,712	1,210,769

It is to be noted that the term "Alien" in the above table is not synonymous with the term "Foreign Born" of the United States Census, yet it serves to make possible proportionate comparisons.

The following table based upon the 1920 United States Census of Population, Vol. III, is revealing to say the least, and indicates to the Lutheran Church a corresponding responsibility.

New York City's veteran Lutheran pastor, Dr. George U. Wenner (58 years of continued service in one field), has repeatedly pointed out that in the five boroughs of Greater New York, there are from 400,000 to 500,000 unchurched potential Lutherans, or "lapsed Lutherans."

This, the largest incorporated city in the world, the five boroughs of Greater New York presents a foreign tongue Home Mission problem of the most complex character to the Evangelical Lutheran Church. Out of its population of 5,800,000, 4,300,000 are either foreign-born (2,000,000), or native-born of foreign parents (2,300,000), and but 1,500,000 are native-born of native parents. The following two tables for the five boroughs of Greater New York are a further revelation of Lutheran responsibility:

New Yorkers of All Races of Foreign Birth and Parentage: Jews, 960,000; Italians, 800,000; Germans, 670,000; Irish, 616,000; Poles, 150,000; English, 137,000; Magyars (Hungarians), 80,000; Czecho-slovaks, 80,000; Russians, 50,000; French, 50,000; Swedes, 50,000; Scotch, 47,000; Norwegians, 40,000; Greeks, 25,000; Latin-Americans, 30,000; Syrians, 20,000; Danes, 18,000; Letts, 16,000; Jugo-Slavs, 16,000; Swiss, 16,000; Finns, 15,000; Spanish, 10,000; Chinese, 10,000; Rumanians, 10,000; Dutch, 10,000; Armenians, 8,000; Lithuanians, 5,000; Ruthenians, 5,000; Japanese, 3,000; Welsh, 2,000; Belgians, 2,000; Flemish, 2,000; Turks, 2,000; all others, 345,000, making a total of 4,300,000.

Taking the percentage of the population according to the origin of nationalities that may legitimately be called Lutheran stock and a field for home mission work, we have the following: Czecho-slovaks, 5.0%—4,000; Danes, 98.5%—17,730; Finns, 98.4%—14,760; French, 1.0%—500; Germans, 60.0%—402,000; Magyars (Hungarians), 7.0%—5,600; Dutch, 1.0%—100; Norwegians, 98.5%—39,400; Poles, 6.0%—9,000; Roumanians, 2.3%—230; Russians, 3.0%—1,500; Swedes, 99.5%—49,750; Swiss, 4.0%—640; English, .5%—685; Jugo-slavs, 2.0%—320; Greeks, .07%—18, making a total of 546,233.

And when the entire Metropolitan

District is considered, the responsibility increases proportionately as the above table of foreign-born of the Metropolitan District indicates to from 900,000 to 1,000,000 Lutherans, all of the Lutheran household of faith. 1 Tim. 5:8. We have said nothing concerning the great unchurched masses of native-born of native parents. They too present a responsibility of potential Lutherans to the Evangelical Lutheran Church of the New York Metropolitan District. Their numbers cannot be easily counted nor estimated. The United States Census of Religious Bodies of 1916 revealed that all religions claim but 2,101,233 of the population of the five boroughs of the Greater City of New York, less than half the total population of 5,312,464 in 1916.

Visions of the Future

In looking at the future, the scientific work done under the auspices of the Russell Sage Foundation, by the "Committee on Plan of New York and Its Environs" indicates a tremendous responsibility facing our Evangelical Lutheran Church. At the beginning of this article, we already outlined the territory covered by the predictions of this Committee. The following table of predictions for the Metropolitan District as a whole tells its own story of responsibility.

Year	Number of Persons
1930 .....	11,500,000
1940 .....	14,100,000
1950 .....	16,800,000
1960 .....	19,600,000
1970 .....	22,300,000
1980 .....	24,800,000
1990 .....	27,000,000
2000 .....	28,800,000

Likewise, the height of the graphic curve of total foreign-born will not be reached until about 1980, when the total is predicted to be 3,750,000. In round numbers, the predictions for the median year, 1960, are as follows: 13,000,000 urban, 5,000,000 suburban and 2,000,000 rural areas, or a total of 20,000,000. Entire Long Island today has a population of 3,303,000 out of the 11,000,000 in the State of New York. The predictions are that in 1930 Kings and Queens Counties alone will have over 3,000,000 and in 1940, 4,000,000, while Nassau County in 1965 will have a population of 622,000. Nassau and Suffolk Counties today have 91,623 families. The increase in the number of dwellings erected outside of Brooklyn and Long Island City in the rest of Queens, and all of Nassau and Suffolk Counties from 1921 to 1925, becomes indicative of the tremendous growth in population: 1921, 16,197 dwellings; 1922, 23,336; 1923, 31,699; 1924, 31,645; 1925, 26,950; a total of 129,827 in five years. The experience of Home Mission superintendents has proven that under normal average conditions, 50% of these dwellings were occupied by Protestants and 60% of the 50, or 30% of the total number were occupied by Lutherans. With an average of five to a dwelling, the estimated increase in population is about 650,000. This growth is only indicative of the rate of growth occurring throughout the entire Metropolitan District. What is the Evangelical Lutheran Church doing to care for these newcomers? What is the Evangelical Lutheran Church doing to care for the people who will occupy this entire Metropolitan District, 25, 50 and 100 years from now? Hit and miss methods without a definite plan or program will simply repeat past history of lost and lapsed Lutherans, to say nothing of the lost opportunities for evangelization of the unchurched masses. The survey method with a definite follow-up plan alone will solve the problem of the Evangelical Lutheran Church in meeting its full responsibility. This article already has proven that the Evangelical Lutheran Church is a growing Church and not a dying Church in the Metropolitan District, even on the Island of Manhattan, where in the life time of one Protestant minister, 36 Protestant Churches had to close their doors, while during the 19th century, 93 literally died.

How the Evangelical Lutheran Church May Win the Field for Christ

Dr. George U. Wenner has pointed out the way in his book on "Lutherans in New York." The foreign-born lapsed Lutherans must be cared for by meeting (1) their ignorance of American Church conditions; (2) their indifference and hostility, and (3) their infidelity and materialistic philosophy. All of which makes a tremendous problem of evangelization, considering the number of unchurched Lutherans alone. "If for no other reason, because of its magnitude and because of its appeal to our denominational responsibility, it is a problem worth solving. But it is a challenge to our Christianity and should stimulate us to an intense study of its possible solution. Ministers can contribute much towards its solution. The people of the churches can do more than they are doing now to win these lapsed Lutherans. A pecuniary method of effecting friendly relations is not without its merits. In this city of frequent removals, there are many families who have lost all connection with the congregation to which they claim to belong. An opportunity to contribute to the church of their new neighborhood might be for them a secondary means of Grace. The evangelization of this great army of lapsed Lutherans is not to be accomplished by simple expedients. What most of them need is a return to the faith. Somebody must guide them. The force to do this work is already enlisted in the 451 congregations. These members are our under-shepherds whose business it is to aid the pastor in searching for the lost sheep. Shall we not have a concerted effort on the part of all the churches?"

We must have the best Week-day Schools of Religion, Bible Schools, Academies, Colleges, and Theological Seminaries, training our own boys and girls from these cosmopolitan homes, representing the peoples of all nations that they may go back and win their own people for Christ, in order that we may solve the situation in the next generation, if not in this. A foreign ministry, whether European or American, will never do it. A native New York ministry, in future generations, will. This assertion is made out of the experience of almost ten years of building a congregation composed of eleven nationalities. As the American Board of Applied Christianity has pointed out, it is not only necessary to have the vision but it is also necessary to plan and to do for the future. This generation of active Lutherans should organize Home Mission and Church extension societies with funds to buy sites in the best locations, on hills and not in valleys, throughout this entire future Great City. Enough adjoining land should be secured in each instance which at its increased value in future years can be sold in part to pay for even the building of the future churches. It can be secured today for a small fraction of its cost in future years. In fact, in many instances, the land will be given. But all requires a plan and a program as well as a vision. All of it is a big enough and important enough proposition to engross the abilities of the most capable laymen of our Church. The Board of Applied Christianity says: "Laymen of ability will be glad to take hold of such a plan. It appeals to the business men and they should handle it. For complete success it should be strictly a lay movement. Scientific management with men and things in relation to God and His work is the ideal. The gospel truth is the candle light shining in the lives of men and women and into the lives of children. That the candle light may be seen a candle stick must be built to carry it. This candle stick is the efficient church organized to spread that light far. The churches need the creed of the candle stick."

May the Evangelical Lutheran Church in the New York Metropolitan District be aroused not alone to its responsibilities and opportunities and privileges in this generation, but may they plan for the greater responsibilities and opportunities in the future generation and generations, that the Evangelical Lutheran Church in the New York Metropolitan District may continue to be the greatest Lutheran center in the world. "For thus hath the Lord said unto me, 'Go, set a watchman, let him declare what he seeth.'" Isaiah 21:6.

The Evangelical Lutheran Church of the World

The Evangelical Lutheran Church had its origin in the Reformation under the leadership of Martin Luther, who believed that he was restoring the stream of New Testament Christianity. Expelled from the Roman Hierarchy by the Anathema of the Pope in 1521, Luther disclaimed the Pope's authority to separate him from the Church of Christ and began his mission as a reformer in the spirit of St. Augustine, St. Francis, Wycliffe, and many others. Since his day the faith which bears his name has spread to the ends of the earth, and falls into three main groups—(1) Evangelical Germany (60% of population), with her neighbors, Poland (6%), Russia (3%), Lithuania (3%), Czecho-Slovakia (5%), Austria (3%), Hungary (7%), Roumania (2.3%), Jugo-Slavia (2%), France (1%), Holland (1%); (2) a group of northern nations which have established the Lutheran Church as the State Church: Denmark (98.5%), Iceland (99%), Norway (98.5%), Sweden (99%), Finland (98.4%), Esthonia, (83%), and Latvia (57%); (3) the United States of America, which counts twelve million adherents. In other parts of the world Evangelical Lutheran groups are also found, and the total (between eighty and a hundred million, with about seventy thousand congregations and forty-nine thousand pastors) comprises the largest confessional body in non-Roman Evangelic Christendom.

The Lutheran Church emphasizes Christian education. Its central fundamental doctrine is justification by faith alone in Jesus Christ. Its confessional position is indicated in a statement drawn up at the Convention of Lutherans from twenty-two nations held at Eisenach two years ago: "The Lutheran World Convention acknowledges the Holy Scriptures of the Old and New Testament as the only source and the infallible norm of all church teaching and practise; and sees in the Lutheran Confessions, especially the Unaltered Augsburg Confession and Luther's Small Catechism, a pure exposition of the Word of God."

Lutherans were present in the earliest American colonies. A Lutheran Christmas service was held on Hudson Bay, 1619, and a Lutheran congregation was formed on Manhattan Island in 1648. Early Swedish and German immigrants planted churches in Pennsylvania, Delaware, Virginia, the Carolinas, and Georgia, and Luther's Catechism was translated into the languages of the Virginia Indians in 1646. The first Synod was organized in Pennsylvania in 1748, and a General Synod was organized in 1820. Today there are seven general Lutheran Church bodies in the United States and Canada with a communicant membership of 2,457,017 and thirteen smaller general Lutheran bodies, using predominantly the English language in services, although the Gospel message is brought to the people in sixteen different languages.

The Lutherans of the United States and Canada have 16,406 churches; 10,799 ministers; 2,622,554 communicants; 11,246 Sunday Schools with 111,772 officers and teachers and 1,236,962 Sunday School scholars; Church buildings and parsonages valued at $240,000,000; Educational institutions, $33,000,000; Hospitals and Inner Mission institutions, $27,000,000; Total Property Valuation, $326,000,000. During 1924, the local congregational expenses amounted to $39,000,000, and benevolence $12,000,000, a per capita of $14.86 for local congregational expenses and $4.62 for benevolence.
